A CO-EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION | RE-ACCREDITED BY NAAC

A Glance on the History of the College

Sikh National College, one of the oldest and historical educational institutions of the region, was established in June 1938 at Lahore, with S. Niranjan Singh as its founder principal. It was the dream of the people of the time to build an ideal institute committed to National Ideas, which would mould the character of students into non-communal brotherhood. For the purpose, Principal Niranjan Singh had the backing as well as co-operation of Baba Bhola Singh, Master Kehar Singh, Giani Kartar Singh, Master Tara Singh and Bawa Harkishan Singh Ji. Sikh Educational Society (S. E. S.) was registered in Lahore with Baba Bhola Singh, as President and Master Kehar Singh, as the Secretary to manage the college affairs.

As the country edged towards partition in 1947, Sikh National College too had to pay the price. It had to abandon its functioning at Lahore in June 1947. However it was re-established at Qadian in March 1948, with Bawa Harkishan Singh Ji as its first Principal in the Post-Independence Era.

Presently, the Sikh Educational Society (Head Office, Chandigarh) is managing the college affairs, along with five other pioneer educational institutions, SGGS College, GGS College for Women, SGGS College of Pharmacy, SGGS Collegiate Public School, all at Chandigarh and Sikh National College at Banga (Nawa Shehar). Hon'ble S. Gurdev Singh Brar IAS (Retd.) and S. Kulbir Singh Chief Er. (Retd.) are respectively the President and Vice-President. Col (Retd.) Jasmer Singh Bala and S. Karandeep Singh Cheema (Advocate) are respectively the Secretary and Joint-Secretary of the Society.

All modern facilities, like generator set, four water coolers fitted with R.O., a Xerox machine, fax, printers and scanner are the added features. The college, on its roll, has qualified, dedicated and hard working staff.

The college is affiliated to G. N. D. U., Amritsar for Degree, Diploma & PG courses.
